BRAIN CENTER

In addition to traditional therapeutic modalities, we offer bio- and neurofeedback sessions to enhance the treatment and recovery process. We use cutting-edge methods and state-of-the-art equipment to aid in grounding and self-regulation. Neuro- and biofeedback help to retrain the brain, making it possible to confront deeper issues with less anxiety and a calmer spirit. There are multiple opportunities to utilize the Brain Center every week, both individually and with peers, all guided by our neurofeedback specialist.

MICHELE LEWINTER, LMFT

Executive Director, The Meadows Malibu

Michele LeWinter earned her undergrad degree from California State University, Long Beach, and then went on to Pacifica Graduate Institute for an MA in counseling psychology. A licensed marriage and family therapist, her past experience includes positions at Sierra Tucson and Miraval and two decades of private practice with a specialty in couples and addictions.

A natural fit for the position of executive director, LeWinter has extensive training in couples therapy and feels strongly about treating the patient within the relationship structure they will be returning to. In this role, she's focused on deepening the clinical experience at The Meadows Malibu and adding more family work, preparing patients and loved ones to incorporate what they've learned once they return home.
